Warsaw Riot Brings Threat Of Penalties

Students In Fight With Police Given Expulsion Warning

WARSAW—Communist authorities today threatened "severe sanctions" against students who took part in Warsaw's first anti-government demonstration since Wladyslaw Gomulka came to power.

Riot police backed by worker militiamen battled about 2,000 students in a melee of tear gas, rubber truncheons and bricks last night outside the Warsaw Polytechnic School. The students were protesting suppression of their newspaper.

About 30 students were reported under arrest. Ten police were injured by bricks rained down from windows of a student boarding house and by paving stones hurled in the streets. Several students were treated for effects of tear gas and bruises from truncheons.

All morning papers carried this warning to the students: "It is understood the rector of Polytechnic has said severe sanctions will be taken against participants (in the demonstration) including expulsion from college."

The official account said the police had arrested "those who were the most aggressive."

The demonstration was the first break between the Communist party and its officially sponsored Union of Socialist Youth.

The Polytechnic students were in the forefront of the surge for freedom that produced the downfall of the Stalinist government and party hierarchy last year and the return of Gomulka to government leadership.

Researchers Report Clues In Hunt For Cancer Cause

SAN FRANCISCO—Researchers at the University of California laboratory say two clues—one involving the mutation of cells—might possibly lead them to the cause of cancer.

The search centers on the mutation of cells of the womb sac that surrounds the unborn infant and in tiny particles that appear spontaneously in various malignant cells.

Nobel prize winner Wendell Stanley and Dr. Robley Williams revealed the leads for the first time yesterday in a report to the California division of the American Cancer Society. The society supports their work.

Girard Claims Accident

Farmers Say Yank Fired At Japanese

MAEBASHI, Japan.—Two more Japanese farmers testified today that GI William S. Girard fired at other Japanese collecting scrap brass Jan. 30 on a firing range before a blank shell from his grenade launcher killed Mrs. Naka Sakai.

The testimony of Gumppei Sakai, 25, a distant relative of the victim, and Hatsu Miharai, 24, coincided generally with that of four previous witnesses who also were Japanese scavenging for scrap brass on the firing range in a full during an Army practice.

Girard, a 22-year-old third class specialist from Ottawa, Ill., has admitted his shot killed Mrs. Sakai but contends it was an accident. He is charged with manslaughter and is being tried in a Japanese court; despite protests from some congressmen and newspapers in the United States.

Girard's defense is that he was assigned to guard equipment during the firing practice recess and fired at random. The prosecution maintains that Girard was trigger happy, enticed Mrs. Sakai near him by throwing out shell casings, and then shot her.

Despite their identification of Girard, Miharai, Sakai and several other brass scavengers who were on the firing range admitted under questioning by defense attorneys that they could not remember clearly what happened and that they knew it was dangerous to trespass on the firing range.

Most of them testified that the soldier who did the shooting shouted "Get out" or "Get out here" in Japanese, rather than called them closer.

Frigid Blasts And Snow Hit West Sectors

By The Associated Press

Wintry weather spread across northwestern sections of the nation today with snowfall up to 10 inches and temperatures in the 20s.

More rain and cloudy weather was the dreary picture in the Southeast but it was generally fair in most of the central and northeastern sections of the country.

An intense storm centered near Yellowstone Park in northwest Wyoming generated strong, cold winds which swept across wide areas from the Great Plains to the Pacific Coast.

Cold air continued to spread southward as far as southern Nevada and northwestern Utah, dropping temperatures into the low and middle 30s. However, the core of the cold belt was in the northern Rockies, which were stung by a fresh invasion of icy air in western Montana and northern Idaho.

Production for the week ended Sept. 21 was 10,063,000 tons.

Production for the Jan. 1-Sept. 28 period was estimated at about 366,791,000 tons against 368,512,000 tons a year ago.

The cause of the dipping was not known but an investigation was opened.

Bride Aids Police Trap Hubby

Ex-Convict Passed Bogus Checks For $175,000

CHICAGO—A 66-year-old man, identified by police as an ex-convict, was seized by detectives last night in connection with passing worthless checks totaling more than $175,000.

Russell E. Fritz was arrested in the Union Station shortly after he greeted his bride of six weeks on her arrival from Iowa. Two detectives in the station nabbed Fritz when he rushed up to his wife, Elva, 49.

Mrs. Fritz, the detectives said, had helped them trap her husband.

Nine Taken Into School By Troopers

Hooting Absent As Tension Easing In Arkansas Conflict

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—An escort of soldiers encountered no trouble today in taking nine Negro students into Central High School for a 10th day of integrated classes.

About 100 white students were massed before the front entrance of the school. Three or four of them displayed small Confederate flags but there was none of the hooting or jeering that marked the last two days.

All the Negroes were present today. Yesterday one of the six Negro girls was absent because of illness.

No Sign Of "Strikers"

Sixteen rifle-carrying National Guardsmen escorted the Negroes halfway across the campus. There four regular Army paratroopers met the Negroes and took them the rest of the way into the school.

There was no sign of the 75 white students who walked out of Central High yesterday in what was scheduled as a mass demonstration but turned out to be a flop. They were either absent today or else inside seeking to make their peace with school officials, who had threatened them all with suspension.

Opposing sides were still deadlocked today in their efforts to solve the integration crisis. No one had come up with a new plan under which federal troops might be removed.

Gov. Luther Huges of North Carolina, chairman of a group of Southern governors who met with President Eisenhower in an unsuccessful effort to solve the problem, simply said: "We've got to have a few days to let this thing cool off."

The nine Negroes entered the school Sept. 23 under guard of federal troops flown here under orders of Eisenhower. Paratroopers of the 101st Airborne Division used bayonets to break up crowds of white demonstrators. That was the last of the demonstrations until yesterday's student walkout at 4 p. m.

Paratroopers Take Over

Inside the school yesterday, highly trained paratroopers of the 101st took over again from National Guardsmen.

This military change apparently took place because white students roughly up some of the Negro students in the two previous days. Guardsmen remained on duty on the campus.

School authorities said no corridor trouble developed yesterday. Only eight Negroes attended—one girl was ill.

Gov. Huges, one of the four Southern governors seeking a compromise, urged both the President and the governor to give ground.

"The stakes at Little Rock are too high for men of good will and patriotism to lose hope," he said.

C47 Ditched, All Rescued

TOKYO—A U. S. Air Force C47 with 13 persons aboard, including author James A. Michener, ditched in the ocean three miles north of two Jima today.

The Air Force said all aboard were rescued unhurt.

Air Force headquarters in Tokyo said the aircraft went down shortly after taking off for Japan.

The cause of the ditching was not known but an investigation was opened.

Det. Anton G. Wenskus said that Fritz, on the way to Florida with his bride, traded his car for Indianapolis, using a phony check to complete the deal.

In Miami, Wenskus said, the couple moved into an apartment owned by Alfred Seward and Fritz gave Seward three hundred dollars to pay off a note on the apartment building.

After the couple left Miami, police said, Seward learned the checks were worthless and notified the FBI. On the return trip, Fritz was arrested in Indianapolis on a traffic charge.

Mrs. Fritz said she went to the home of a brother in Montrose, Iowa, where she was told by the FBI of the string of bad checks her husband had cashed.

Police and the FBI arranged for Mrs. Fritz to meet her husband on her return to Chicago and they were waiting in the Union Station when she arrived last night.

PHS Reports Another Hike In Asian Flu

WASHINGTON—Asian flu cases nearly doubled again last week, going up by an estimated 200,000 new cases to make a total of 422,650 since early June.

Reporting this today, the Public Health Service said the estimates were based on incomplete reports.

A spokesman pointed out also that the reports cover the period only through last Saturday. Thus, they do not include outbreaks this week such as 150,000 new cases among New York City school children.

The spokesman also said in deaths have been reported in the continental United States in connection with the flu outbreak; 13 in Puerto Rico; 7 in Hawaii and 2 in Alaska.

The weekly disease summary of the Health Service said the number of cases of influenza and influenza-like disease continued to increase in most parts of the United States last week.

"A large number of outbreaks were reported in schools, based principally on absenteeism rates," the report said.

The estimated number of cases of influenza and of cases suspected of having influenza was 200,000 which brings the total to 422,650."

Two Arrested For $150,000 Meter Thefts

NEW YORK—Two men were seized last night in connection with parking meter thefts that police said totaled $150,000 worth of dimes.

Taken into custody were Giuseppe A. D'Orta, 37, of Manhattan, a merchant seaman, and Richard R. Bianculli, 26, Waccus Village, Queens.

Charged with grand larceny and possession of burglar tools, they specifically were accused of stealing 3,000 dimes from 3rd Avenue parking meters. They were picked up on the avenue near 58th Street by three detectives—one dressed as a grocery delivery clerk, another posing as a panhandler, a third walking a dog.

Bianculli was described as an electrician and former dispatcher for the Broadway Maintenance Co., which services meters. When the detectives closed in, police said, Bianculli possessed a meter key and $300 in dimes.

Djilas Again Faces Trial

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia—Milovan Djilas, once President Tito's close associate, went on trial for the third time today for criticizing communism. He defiantly said he stood by every word.

Djilas' offense this time was, up in 1952, he disclosed that she was going to have another baby. The same thing happened in 1953 and again in 1954, 1955 and 1956.

Upon learning that no child was expected this year, Meehan told the court, he surrendered to the military police.

When he wanted to give himself up, he said, he was told that she was going to have another baby. The same thing happened in 1953 and again in 1954, 1955 and 1956.

Gains Early Ballot Lead Over 2 Foes

Begins Battle To Keep Giant Union In AFL-CIO Ranks

MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—James R. Hoffa today led two other candidates by better than two to one in early convention voting for the Teamsters Union presidency.

The first 335 votes out of the total 1,754 were cast this way: Hoffa 235, Huggerty 30, Lee 70.

Among the early voters for Hoffa were practically all the union's top officials.

Hoffa, charged with union corruption by the AFL-CIO and Senate Rackets Committee, was opposed in the convention runoff by Vice President William A. Lee and Thomas J. Huggerty, both of Chicago.

To Take Several Hours

The runoff was expected to last several hours.

Hoffa's name was put in nomination by John English, veteran union secretary-treasurer, who called Hoffa "The champion of the Teamsters."

English said the convention met at a crucial time for the union—with agents, he said, of the FBI, Senate Rackets Committee and the AFL-CIO were keeping tabs on what went on.

English said Hoffa had done more for the Teamsters than anyone else in union history and although the union faces "a little trouble here and there, he'll take care of that."

"Now is the time to show Jimmy our appreciation," English said.

Huggerty was nominated by Peter J. Hoban, Chicago. Hoban declared his man always puts principle ahead of money. He said the union today stands before the court of public opinion and all organized labor wants Hoffa defeated.

Thomas J. Mahoney, Chicago, nominated Lee. With Lee as president, Mahoney said, the union's present scandals will be cleared away "and this union can again hold its head high."

He said under Lee there would be no dictatorship and local unions could operate autonomously. Lee's nomination was seconded by Frank W. Brewster, Seattle.

However, a first ballot election of Hoffa, the Midwest Teamster boss from Detroit, to succeed retiring President David Beck seemed almost certain.

Hoffa Plans Flight

In a sudden move made yesterday, the decks were cleared for Hoffa to take over the presidency Oct. 15, a month and a half before Beck's term expires Dec. 1.

Searchers Find Lost Child, Two

POTTSTOWN, Pa.—Two-year-old Candice (Candy) Street, object of an all-night search of some 500 police, Boy Scouts and volunteers, was found today, wet and shivering beside a chicken house about a mile and a half from her home.

Little Candy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Street, disappeared about 5:30 p. m. yesterday when she strolled out of a kitchen door and took a walk in the heavily wooded area.

Missing Child Found Dead Beside Grandmother's Body

LOS ANGELES—A 9-year-old boy who had been missing since Wednesday was found shot to death in an abandoned house last night.

His grandmother lay dead beside him.

Police said she evidently killed him, then took her own life.

Investigators said the boy, Ronald Barrett White, was shot in the back. The grandmother, Mrs. Alene Durston, had a bullet wound in her head. Police said a gun was in her hand.

Ronald's mother, Mrs. Evelyn D. White of suburban Reseda, reported the boy missing Wednesday afternoon after learning he didn't show up at school that day. She said she feared her mother might have abducted the boy.

Police said Mrs. Durston tried to take the boy away last July. They said she left a note saying she was "taking the boy for my own and going on a trip." She was stopped before she could carry out the plan, police said.

The bodies were discovered when Mr. and Mrs. Walter Larson went to the abandoned house last night to remove some light fixtures. Mrs. Larson's mother had lived in the home until about a month ago. The house is in Woodland Hills, not far from Reseda, in the San Fernando Valley.

After the bodies were found, police said, they were waiting in the Union Station when she arrived last night.

After the couple left Miami, police said, Seward learned the checks were worthless and notified the FBI. On the return trip, Fritz was arrested in Indianapolis on a traffic charge.

Faubus Again Draws Blast By McKeldin

CHICAGO (AP)—Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland believes responsibility could be fixed for the Little Rock integration crisis if "the federal government should reveal all that it knows."

The Republican, one of four Southern governors who attempted to work out a plan for withdrawal of federal troops from Little Rock yesterday, criticized Arkansas Gov. Orval Faubus.

McKeldin in a statement called "particularly obnoxious" Faubus' action in ordering out the Arkansas National Guard which, McKeldin said, upset the integration plan of the Little Rock Board of Education.

"I believe the time has come," McKeldin said, "when the federal government should reveal all that it knows—all the information that it has—of events and maneuvers preceding the calling out of the National Guard on Sept. 2 and of all that happened behind the scenes in Arkansas after the guard was withdrawn under an order of the court."

Asked whether he referred to an FBI report, McKeldin declined to elaborate.

Noted Times Writer Dies, Often Broke

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP)—Walter Duntzky, 72, former New York Times foreign correspondent and winner of the Pulitzer Prize in 1932, died yesterday after an illness of three weeks.

He won the prize in 1932 for a series of articles in Russia, where he was a correspondent from 1921 to 1934.

He often was penniless during this stage of his career, but every now and then sold an adventure story to an American magazine to carry him over the rough spots.

He joined the Times' Paris bureau in 1913 and during the first World War was a correspondent with the French army on the Western Front.

McKeldin said, "When the federal government should reveal all that it knows—all the information that it has—of events and maneuvers preceding the calling out of the National Guard on Sept. 2 and of all that happened behind the scenes in Arkansas after the guard was withdrawn under an order of the court."

Fund For Attack Victim Started In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A campaign to help the victims of teenage violence and to rid the city of racial bitterness gathered force today.

Public agencies and aroused individuals, white and Negro, joined in an expressed determination to end "these senseless fights before more young people are hurt."

The quoted words are those of Mrs. Clara Baldwin, a Negro in her late 40s with a family of her own and a strong sense of social responsibility.

Started Canvassers Mrs. Baldwin, cheered on by city officials and welfare groups, earlier this week started canvassing her North Philadelphia neighborhood to raise money for the family of Billy Clark, 15-year-old white boy, who was stabbed in an attack upon him by several Negro youths. The boy's spinal column was all but severed by a knife, causing paralysis of both legs. Doctors fear he may never walk again.

Having only a few blocks from the Plucks, Mrs. Baldwin said she was horrified by what had happened. In less than three days, she and her husband Thomas rallied to their efforts more than 100 volunteer solicitors, most of them Negroes.

About 35 canvassers gathered in the Baldwin home last night and reckoned up about $100 in contributions. Approximately the same amount was raised the night before.

Mrs. Baldwin said one young Negro housewife contributed all she had—3 cents. One of the volunteers is an elderly blind woman, who goes from door to door, led by a friend.

The Citizens Committee against Juvenile Delinquency and their Causes, a large and influential Negro agency, announced last night that it fully backs what Mrs. Baldwin and her associates are doing.

Capt. Harry Fox, head of the Police Department's Juvenile Aid Bureau, described Mrs. Baldwin's activities as an outstanding example of how racial tension can be lessened when level heads take over in a neighborhood.

Meanwhile, in Camden, N.J., across the Delaware River, five Philadelphia Negroes, each 19, and two of them Marines on leave, were sentenced to jail for one year for disorderly conduct.

"Tired Of Gangs" Camden Municipal Judge Anthony Marino told them: "I am

Vivien Loses Her Fight To Save Theater

LONDON (AP)—St. James's Theater is coming down despite Vivien Leigh.

London's Hartford, an American millionaire and theater buff, offered 35,000 pounds ($58,000) and Sir Winston Churchill promised 50,000 pounds to save the venerable London playhouse whose site is earmarked for an office building.

But C. C. W. Glossop, chairman of the association that tried to save the St. James's, told a luncheon yesterday that those were the only two offers above 100 pounds—and to put the theater in shape would cost "considerably more than half a million pounds."

"It is naturally a bitter disappointment," said Miss Leigh, who paraded the London streets ringing a bell, made speeches and was ejected from the House of Lords for appealing from the visitors' gallery during a session.

"I cannot see this meeting and without saying thanks to my wife," said Sir Laurence Olivier, Britain's No. 1 actor and Miss Leigh's husband. "She was at the head of an extraordinarily gallant fight."

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object and substance of this suit is to procure a decree requiring the conveyance by the defendants to the complainant of their undivided one-fifth interest in the real estate hereinafter mentioned and described and for the appointment of a trustee to convey said property to the complainant.

The bill of complaint recites that the complainant is a Delaware corporation duly authorized to do business in Maryland and that the defendants are adults and non-residents of the State of Maryland, residing in Painesville, Lake County, Ohio; that the complainant owns an undivided three-fifths interest in fee simple in Lots Nos. 546, 549, 550, 551 and 552 in the Town of Lake, Allegany County, Maryland, and has a permanent easement over the undivided one-fifth interest of Robert Smith III in the aforesaid property; that on July 11, 1957, the complainant acquired from the defendants an option to purchase their undivided one-fifth interest in the aforesaid lots at and for the sum of One Hundred Dollars ($100.00) and on July 17, 1957 the complainant notified the defendants of its intention to exercise said option; that thereafter on or about the 17th day of August, 1957, the complainant tendered the purchase price aforesaid for said undivided interest in the defendants but the complainant has never received from the defendants a deed conveying to it their undivided one-fifth interest.

It is, therefore, this 3rd day of October, 1957, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, that the complainant cause a copy of this order to be inserted in some newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks before the 4th day of November, 1957, giving notice to the above non-resident defendants, Isabelle Smith Hobbs and James Clarence Hobbs, her husband, Painesville, Ohio, the last address known to the complainant, of the object and substance of this bill of complaint, and exhorting them to be and appear in this Honorable Court in person or by solicitor, on their behalf, on or before the 29th day of November, 1957, to show cause within fifteen (15) days thereafter, if any they have, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

Byrd Reports Drop In Federal Payroll

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) reported today the number of federal employees dropped 7,031 in August as compared with July.

The decrease more than offset a rise of 5,337 in the federal payroll which took place in July.

Byrd, chairman of the Committee on Reduction of Nonessential Federal Expenditures, said there were 2,400,820 U.S. workers in August as against 2,407,651 in July.

The number was about evenly divided between the civilian agencies, which had 1,248,021 employees in August, and the Defense Department, which had 1,154,599 nonmilitary workers.

The civilian agencies had a decline of 1,904 jobs for the month. The Defense Department total decreased 5,127, which included Navy, 2,802; Air Force, 1,395; and Army, 1,115.

The rabbit, hare, beaver, copy and sheep are used mostly for fur in making men's hats. The copy is a member of the otter family.

The Thrill That Comes Once in a Lifetime.

A WEBSTER CLASSIC

Whitney Bolton

Glancing Sideways

NEW YORK — Miss Edith Adams is not only a hell-bent-for-leather girl, she is also, in private life, the young lady who lives in a shoe.

As a shoe aficionado, having reported the collections of such colorful people as John O'Hara, novelist, Jerry Wald, film producer, and Adolphe Menjou, film actor and three-letter man—shoes, wessies, jacks—she seems only honest reporting for me to inform these gents that they are rank amateurs. Miss Adams hasn't got shoes. She has shoes!

MISS ADAMS has the kind of home life where if her husband, Prmie Kovacs, rises in the dark to answer the telephone he risks breaking a leg in a fall over her tides of shoes. What floor space in their New York apartment is not covered by his boxes of cigars is awash with her collection of shoes.

The accurate count on shoes she keeps at home is 263 pairs. Her collection in her dressing-room at "Lil Abner," a tenth of what she keeps at home, is 36 pairs. This gives her possession of 399 pairs of shoes.

THE KOVACS inhabit a fine, soaring-ceiling duplex of 16 rooms on Central Park West, the decor of which can be described as Havana-Insolite. What patches are not neatly turfed by his cigars are swarming in leather she owns. All kinds of leather: steer, lizard, snake, alligator, ostrich, shark, pig, and calf, not to mention goat and deer.

The snakeskin-shoe department is a collection all by itself running from cobra to coral, the latter a pair of narrow strips of the thin skins.

"I MADE UP a sort of half-daily poem when we called in the carpenters to outfit this place with shoe closets," Edith said the other afternoon. "I told them: 'Racks on the ceiling, racks on the floor, racks on the walls and racks on the door.' They looked a little dubious, but they were polite. They did it just that way."

"If you don't mind a mild, non-toxic type confession," I said, "where did this compulsive mania start?"

"I can't date it," she said.

Worth While Shoveling

NEW YORK — As of now I'm not so sure about New York being America's most sophisticated city; I've just spent the afternoon in the grand ballroom of the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel, watching some ladies and a gent shoveling silver from one pile to another.

There were 250,000 of these dollars in an open box that weighed seven tons, and the hotel had to bring in some extra girders to reinforce the floor. This cash belonged to a soda pop company, which was advertising its wares, and there must have been 1,500 of New York's leading businessmen cheering the shovellers.

WHAT BROUGHT me here in the first place was to make a speech (successful, because nobody threw rolls at me) before the Sales Executives Club, which was celebrating Newspaper Week. The money-shoveling came later, and I give you my word that this is what happened:

The vice-president of the Chemical Corn Exchange Bank announced that he had weighed all those carloads, and also counted them, and they came to a quarter of a million dollars. They glinted dully in the spotlights.

The banker had with him two girls in short pants, with pistols, to guard any dollars that splashed over into the distinguished audience. The ladies kept shooting their guns in the middle of important announcements as made by Ralph Story, a suave citizen who runs quiz programs on television.

THE FIRST contestant turned out to be a lady from Louisville, Ky., in a blue dress, rubber-soled shoes so she wouldn't slide into the dollars, and gloves to protect her hand. She didn't do so well: she only shoveled in $3,000 in one minute and even that left her breathless.

No. 2 was a handsome blonde, Mrs. Maxine Brandstetter of Santa Rosa, Calif., who'd been practicing (she'd won the local shoveling contest) by digging in her garden. She had two minutes to shovel dollars and I've never seen a lady shovel like she did. She piled up $7,700 for herself.

The final contestant, winner of the grand sweepstakes, turned out to be a 19-year-old Thomas Watson, a draftsman from Battle Creek, Mich., who said he'd spent the last several weeks shoveling iron washers.

THAT BOY WAS a shoveler. Every time his shovel dug into the money, he came up with about $500 worth. He also splattered dollars on the nearby lunch eaters, and those girls with the pistols kept shooting at the late.

guests found the food and booze so good at the first three parties that they didn't bother to hit numbers four and five.

But the next night the World Bank itself threw its annual reception at Anderson House and invited everybody there. Guests were lined up for half a block waiting to get in.

"That's a true, salt-free type confession. All I remember is that when I was a little girl we did not have buckets of money lying around loose. I made a sort of girlish vow—some day I'd be rich enough to buy all the shoes I wanted. It worked out."

WELL, SHE CAN say that again. It certainly did. On the other hand, you would not have to be stifling rich to do the same thing. We'll say her shoes averaged out at $20 a pair. Some were store-bought and some hand-made, so the average would be about right, and at 399 pairs that comes to $11,970. You take a spread on that across several years and you come out not exactly spavined by the cost.

In how many places did she buy shoes? "Chopping away some smaller places here the name wouldn't mean anything except to people who live there," she said. "I'd say New York, Paris, London, Mexico City, Havana, Rome, Madrid and Buenos Aires."

DURING THIS not immortal exchange of light words and phrases, Mr. Kovacs lolled back on a sofa the size of a basketball court and filled the air with the blue-smoke aroma of a $2 cigar. Plainly, he was waiting a chance to be Kovackian and banter the place up.

"The show has been running more than 10 months now and it's been a ball all the way," said Miss Adams, "but as happy as I am to have such steady work I have to say that playing Daisy Mae barefoot has made it necessary to squeeze into most of these shoes. You walk around barefoot on a stage all those months and you are bound not to have the same size feet as when you started."

A light gleamed in Mr. Kovacs' eye. The right one. His chance had come. Flinging up off the foam rubber arena, he poked a cigar the size of a submarine at me and said: "I can name two dozen actresses who got swelled heads playing starring roles. Edie is the first one that ever got swelled feet. Yock!"

Yock!

These problems, like the farmer's income, are more closely related to town and city life than many of us realize.

Reporter's Notebook

NEW YORK — "The fur people are a great part of my life," said actress June Havoc, who keeps and is consoled by seven dogs and two cats.

"They are my companions. I started out with them when there were no 'skin people'—no children my own age—around to play with. Therefore the fur people have been a great part of my life, and still are."

"You know how a hobo, if you give him a handout, will make a mark on the pavement to let other hoboes know yours is a door to knock on? Well, I have a cross like that on top of my head."

"It's invisible to the skin people, but it says to all the fur people, 'This is the place, Charlie!'"

Miss Havoc has been honored by West Coast humane societies for her work in helping save 265,000 homeless cats and dogs doomed to extermination.

"I helped get them jobs," she said. "I particularly like to find jobs for middle-aged fur people who have lost their former homes. They are truly tragic. Everybody loves a puppy or a kitty—but who ever buys a middle-aged dog or cat?"

MISS HAVOC, Gypsy Rose Lee's little sister, feels there is a kind of kinship between the fur people and human entertainers—a secret bond of understanding.

Westvaco Names J. W. Holdsworth Board Sales Head

TYRONE, Pa. — West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company today announced the appointment of John W. Holdsworth as sales manager for its newly created Building Boards Division. The appointment follows a recent Westvaco announcement of its intention to construct a flakeboard mill at the site of its Tyrone plant.

In announcing the appointment, J. L. Ferner, division manager, stated that Holdsworth was particularly well qualified for the new position, having formerly served with Masonite Corporation as a division manager and with Armstrong Cork Company in the field of building product sales.

In his earlier capacities, Holdsworth has gained wide knowledge and practical experience in sales promotion, marketing and new product development in the construction and allied fields, Ferner stated.

Holdsworth will organize a sales force with headquarters at Tyrone for the purpose of marketing Westvaco's projected flakeboard product which will be on the market next year. Flakeboard is now used in the construction, furniture and other manufacturing industries, Ferner said.

Garrett Area
Autumn Glory Time Slated

OAKLAND — Plans for the annual observance of "Autumn Glory Time" in Garrett County have been made by local organizations and the B&O Railroad Company.
Purpose of the program is to give residents of Maryland and nearby states an opportunity to see Mother Nature's fall setting in the forest and recreation areas of the county.
Cooperating in the project, besides the railroad, are the Deep Creek Lake Promotion Council, Mt. Top Chamber of Commerce and the Garrett County Turkey Growers.
Plans call for a Baltimore and Ohio Railroad excursion to leave Baltimore on Sunday morning and Sunday, October 13, and travel to Oakland.
From here the excursionists will travel by bus to Herrington Manor, Swallow Falls, Deep Creek Lake and to the new state park now in the course of construction on the Meadow Mountain inlet. At the falls there will be booths of the turkey growers and the promotion council with boxed sandwiches, other food and novelties. At the park there will be a booth set up where soft drinks, coffee, candy and other packaged food will be available.
The tour of the county will begin about 1 p. m., and conclude about 5:30 p. m., the local organizations have been informed. The tourists will be divided into two groups to alleviate congestion of traffic as some 20 buses will be used to transport them to the two areas. Some seven hundred people will be expected each Sunday, it was announced.
The Chamber of Commerce worked out details of the event at a meeting of the board of directors. It was planned to ask the junior and senior hands of Southern High School to play for the occasion.

College students who assisted were Misses Bonnie Benson, Clara Jane Martz, Sara Slick, Elaine Smith, Joan Sweeney, Donna Price, Joann Tomlinson, Joan Lulltrell, Joy Swett and Katherine Varah.

Verification Needed For Juror's Excuse
NORMAN, Okla. — "Let me see that," a Norman father yelled after being informed his wife has requested she be excused from jury duty because of (10) minor children.
"He read the note and sighed with relief. His wife had requested she be excused because of the 10th item (minor children) in a list of grounds for excusing jurors."

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Police Help Young Pair To Be Wed

City Police yesterday came to the aid of a teenage couple from New York who came to Maryland to be married.

The youngsters' car broke down here yesterday afternoon and they requested aid from a traffic policeman, revealing that they were on their way to Elkhart to be married.

Checking into the matter because of the extreme youth of the couple, local police found that the boy is 16 and the girl 15.

However, the girl produced affidavits that she is expecting a child and that both she and her fiance have the consent of their parents to wed.

Detective Joseph Stutcher called State's Attorney Paul M. Fletcher and Chief Judge George Henderson to see if the couple could be married here.

Fletcher said he felt that a waiver could be obtained from Allegany County Circuit Court and a marriage license could be granted.

The girl's father verified consent to the marriage in a telephone conversation with Detective Stutcher.

With a written notice to court officials from local police pertaining to verification of all facts, the couple hopes to get a license to wed today.

Critic Says Boone Show 'Corny', Fair

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK—(INS)—Considerable advance excitement has been whipped up around ABC-TV over the new 'Pat Boone Show,' which had its premiere last night.

The excitement was all in front; it's a pretty mild show.

It's also a TV show in which no cornball ingredient is ignored. Pat used every device for sympathetic acceptance except waving a flag and limping into his finale in a Civil War uniform.

Pat said he hoped his show would be sort of an "adult Disneyland," but it probably never will fulfill that ambition until he grows past the white-shoes aura and all that goes with it.

It was a fair show, corny, but mild, always mild.

Walter Brennan, a character actor of more than occasional movie distinction (three Oscars) is the star of ABC-TV's new "The Real McCoys," which arrived last night as an assembly line of terribly stereotyped hillbilly comedy.

It seems to derive much of its mood and point-of-view from the hillbilly cartoons in Esquire Magazine, which are very funny, one at a time.

This one is both country and western, shifting a raffish assemblage of barnyard clichés cross-country from eastern hillbilly territory to California, a sort of hokeyokies opus.

Walter Brennan played it as if secure in the knowledge it would win him another Oscar, the sign always of a professional, and in the east was Kathy Nolan, the lovely "Wendy" of TV's "Peter Pan."

We felt very sorry for dear Wendy.

Playhouse 90 was some sort of weird, wildly arty space-cadet parable, set sometime in the future when the right to read a book — any book is considered treason.

Phil Silvers wants to direct his series.

Patti Page is getting recognition in her home state of Oklahoma: A stretch of Route 66 near Tulsa will be renamed "Patti Page Highway."

You can't kill a ghost: "Topper" gets still another CBS-TV go-round starting Oct. 14.

More TV families getting into the act: Gale Storm's 11-month-old daughter Susanna (named after Gale's shipboard series) makes her showbiz debut with Momma Saturday, October 26.

Bowling shows are so successful, one Midwest station next will try a sneak test of a pocket billiards show.

Next Monday's "Suspicion" will be loaded with murder, if nothing else: A dozen homicides in an hour.

Annual Fire Prevention Week Opens

Fire Prevention Week which begins on Sunday will be an opportunity for residents to make an inspection of homes and business places and eliminate fire hazards which may prevail.

Fire Chief Virgil A. Parker reports that school children will be given an opportunity to help their parents locate such hazards.

Home inspection data will be distributed to local school children, according to Chief Parker, who said he is receiving the full cooperation of Ralph R. Webster, county schools superintendent.

A school inspection program is also planned during the week. Colorful comic books stressing fire dangers and how they can be averted will be distributed to school children.

Chief Parker said a local insurance group is joining city firemen in stressing the week's observance. A large banner will be placed across Baltimore Street at the Centre Street intersection, and an appropriate display will be on exhibit in a window of a Baltimore Street business place.

"Make sure of your family's tomorrow — don't give fire a place to start" is the theme of this year's Fire Prevention Week, the chief added.

Sewer Plan Meeting Set At Frostburg

State And Town Officials Expected At Wednesday Meet

Members of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today were invited to attend a meeting at the City Hall in Frostburg, next Wednesday at 7:30 p. m. at which time the proposed Georges Creek sewerage program will be discussed.

George L. Hall, chief of the Division of Sanitation for the State Department of Health, told the board that officials of Frostburg, Barton, Midland and Lonaconing have also been asked to attend.

Hall will attend the meeting along with T. W. Shives, also of his department. They will give the views of the State Health Department concerning the sewage problem along the Georges Creek.

The state agency has been working on the problem for some time. The recent dry weather caused more objections to the dumping of sewage in the stream by the communities mentioned than for several years.

One of the most outspoken groups against the sewage dumping in the stream is the Shaft Volunteer Fire Company. The community is located just below Frostburg.

It has been mentioned on previous occasions that some trunk sewer line from Frostburg down to the Westport section might be one answer to the problem. Under this proposal the county, state and federal governments might be asked to participate. The towns along the trunk sewer line would be assessed their share of the cost.

Contractor Near Finish Of Road Work

The S. T. Brotemarkle and Sons Construction Company has finished blacktopping the two sections of Route 220 on which the firm has contracts.

One of them is between the state line and a point north of Centerville, and the other is nearly five miles southward on McJannet Highway from Dawson.

On the Pennsylvania contract, C. Arthur Brotemarkle, company president, said the surface was finished last Wednesday, and cleaning up the minor items will take from ten days to two weeks.

Before using the highway before and after working hours, but during the day when the contractor is on the job the detour is south.

South of here, Brotemarkle finished blacktopping yesterday on the long section beyond Dawson. A small patch remains at the north end of Cresaptown where a box culvert was installed.

Traffic is using both sides of the new stretch, Brotemarkle said. The minor work is to be cleaned up next spring.

Judge Turns Down Inmate

Chief Judge George Henderson yesterday denied a petition for a writ of habeas corpus which was filed by an inmate of the House of Correction.

The prisoner claimed that Judge Charles C. Marbury of Prince Georges County Circuit Court erred in sentencing him for jail break.

The petitioner, Ray W. Swartz alias Rodney W. Schwartz, alleges that he was sentenced to serve three consecutive one-year terms in the House of Correction.

While serving the first one-year sentence he escaped. While serving the second one-year term he pleaded guilty to having escaped and was sentenced by Judge Marbury to serve six months in the House of Correction "to begin at the expiration of the sentence for which he is now confined."

Swartz or Schwartz argues that under the wording of this sentence for jail break, it was to begin at the expiration of the second one-year term so as to run concurrently with the third one-year term. Since the third one-year term has expired the prisoner believes he is entitled to his freedom.

The petitioner also quotes from a letter from Judge Marbury's secretary which states that it was the judge's intention that Swartz should serve an additional six months to begin at the expiration of the time he was then serving, whether for one or more sentences.

Under the circumstances, Judge Henderson wrote, it seems proper to hold that the petitioner is being properly held in the House of Correction until he completes the six-month term to which he was sentenced by Judge Marbury for his escape and which was intended by Judge Marbury to begin after the three one-year sentences which he was then serving had expired.

Board Gets Complaint On Junk Yard

A complaint was received by the Allegany County Board of Commissioners today concerning the operation of a junk yard in the upper Homewood Addition section on the Mt. Savage Road.

Mrs. Earl Dolly told the board the junk yard is often operated late at night and disturbs the sleep of residents in that area. She was informed that the rules and regulations which the county board has had drawn up under a new law will go into effect soon and the conditions she complains of will then be corrected.

Edgar T. Lewis, RD 2, Williams Road, made application today for one of the two dog warden positions which will be filled soon.

Lewis said he has had several years experience handling dogs. The application was filed with the others received in recent weeks.

A letter was received from the Valley High School Improvement Association thanking the commissioners for alleviating a health and safety hazard near the school.

The letter signed by Edward McPartland, chairman of the committee, stated that the cleaning out of a conduit under a bridge on Seldom Seen Run has eliminated a condition which has existed four years.

No Decision Made To Halt Rail Service

The matter of the Western Maryland Railway's application to remove its passenger service between Cumberland and Elkins remains in the hands of the West Virginia Public Service Commission.

The hearing on the carrier's application was held February 20, evidence has been taken, and all briefs filed, according to M. F. Wright Jr., Burlington, who is executive secretary of the commission. The final decision is still in the hands of the PSC.

Opposition to the removal of this daily train that operates one round trip daily, except Sunday, from Elkins, was made by a league of West Virginia communities along the line.

Benn Brown, Elkins attorney, presented the protestants' case before the PSC at the hearings and in the subsequent briefs.

On January 1, the railroad lost its last mail contract between Elkins and Cumberland. Truck service handles it between the two cities daily.

Several years ago, the Western Maryland received permission to drop its round trip passenger that left Cumberland each morning and returned from Elkins in the afternoon.

Operating losses was main reason forwarded by the railroad in wanting to abandon this service.

Teamwork Making Racing Season Successful Event

Teamwork is combining to make Cumberland's current 12-day racing meet a big success.

That was the opinion expressed last night by Sen. J. Glenn Beall, president of the Cumberland Fair Association.

Beall made his remarks at a dinner at the Fairgo Clubhouse given by the Harry M. Stevens firm, Fairgo caterers for the last 15 years.

Beall lauded the work of Fairgo general manager Harry J. Barton, J. Fred Colwill, racing secretary, and starter Eddie Blind. The association president also praised Ralph F. McHenry, his son, James, who is assistant farm agent for Garrett County, and Joseph M. Steger, Allegany County farm agent. The work of these three played a major role in making August's fair the biggest yet, Beall declared.

J. Philip Arenades was introduced by Sen. Beall as the only original member of the Fair Association's Racing Committee.

Other short talks were made by Blind, G. William Bibby and Thomas Tommy DiNatale, maitre d' of the Stevens company.

Officers of the Fair Association present, in addition to Beall and Barton, were George A. Schwarzenbach, vice president; John H. Mosner, secretary, and J. Glenn Beall, Jr., treasurer.

Directors present were Earl C. Robertson, William C. Walsh, William Winterberg, Bibby, Steger and McHenry. Others in attendance were Colwill, Littleton, J. Four Appeals Docketed Here In SIAC Cases

Four appeals have been filed in Circuit Court from decisions of the State Industrial Accident Commission. Three of the appeals were filed by one man.

Three of the cases concern John E. Hillegass, 614 Beachley Street, Meyersdale, Pa., as claimant; the Kelly-Springfield Tire Company, as employer, and the Continental Casualty Company, as insurer.

Hillegass apparently was involved in three different accidents while at work in October and November 1953. The first occurred October 23, 1953, when he felt a catch in his back while lifting a roll of camel back scrap.

The next day he slipped on a wet spot and fell after placing a strip across a conveyor.

Then, on November 11, 1953, while warming up some gum, a piece broke off and hit him, injuring his ribs.

On June 24, 1954, Hillegass was awarded temporary total disability of $92 a week from November 10, 1953, until March 31, 1954. He also was awarded permanent partial disability of $25 a week beginning April 1, 1954, and continuing so long as he receives no more than a total of $3,125.

Last November 7, on a petition to reopen the case, Commissioner R. Duncan Clark ruled there was no evidence to substantiate increased disability payments. Hillegass is appealing this ruling.

The other transcript involves Morris Callis Schade, 416 South Main Street, Keyser, as claimant; the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company as employer and insurer.

While working on a 35-foot pole September 20, 1955, Schade was knocked unconscious by a 277-volt charge. Commissioner Melvin H. Blacker ruled April 24 of this year that Schade's temporary total disability ended July 5, 1956. He suffered 25 per cent partial disability in both hands and was entitled to $25 a week for 126 weeks, the commissioner ruled. Schade appealed.

The identity of the defendant in a damage suit filed in Allegany County Circuit Court yesterday was clarified today by another person in the same business with the same name.

The suit found G. Kenneth McLaughlin, Flintstone, suing George P. Powers for $3,000 in damages to the motor of a truck tractor caused when an oil plug was replaced in an alleged improper manner.

The suit is against the George P. Powers who operates the Powers Boulevard Sunoco Station, according to Leo Powers, operator of the Powers Esso Service Station. Both are located near each other on Henderson Avenue.

Mum Injures Hand—Kermit Bittinger, 46, of Grantsville, was admitted to Memorial Hospital yesterday for hand surgery suffered when his right hand was mangled after it became caught in a corn picking machine. Attaches, who reported him in "good" condition, said he lost several fingers in the mishaps.

CLAUSON—Mrs. Margaret, 95, of 743 Fayette Street.

DUDLEY—Mrs. Pearl B., 66, Midlothian.

DAVALL—John T., 60, Paw Paw.

EVANS—Mrs. Amanda, 73, formerly of Frostburg.

MARSHALL—Enoch T., 46, Berkeley Springs.

McGAUGHEY—John C., 52, former resident.

ZILCH—Henry O., 84, of 509 Frederick Street.

Henry O. Zilch, 84, of 509 Frederick Street, died last night in Memorial Hospital.

A retired businessman, he was a native of Cumberland, a son of the late Conrad and Josephine Zilch. Mr. Zilch had been co-owner of the Garrett and Zilch Store in South Cumberland prior to his retirement about nine years ago.

A member of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, he had been presented a plaque by the church in recognition of 65 years of membership, most of which were spent at secretary of the Sunday Church School. He also held

Phone Firm Seeking Bids On Exchange

Offers Due On Frostburg Project By October 24

The C&P Telephone Company has issued specifications to a number of area contractors for the construction of its new exchange at Frostburg.

Those invited to bid include the Steiner Construction Company, Baltimore; George E. Hazelwood Company, George Construction Company, John I. Vandegrift Company, all of Cumberland; Baker and Combs, Morgantown, W. Va.; Fairchance Lumber Company, Fairchance, Pa.; and H. S. Corson Company, Morgantown, W. Va.

The bids will be received by the architect on the one-story structure, Taylor and Fisher, 101 West Hamilton Street, Frostburg, until October 24 at 2 p. m.

The new Frostburg exchange will house dial equipment, and it is anticipated by company officials that residents served by that center will be converted from manual operations by Christmas, 1958.

Robert N. Garner, manager of the Cumberland exchange, said the successful contractor is expected to begin work on the Main Street structure on November 1.

Work is supposed to be completed by August 1958. Dial equipment will take about three months to install, Garner pointed out.

The building to be located on the vacant lot adjacent to the Parise property will be one-story high. A basement will be utilized as a below-the-street floor.

It will be constructed of brick and will be in the same architectural style of other exchanges in Maryland.

Control Unit Hears Pabst

The American Society for Quality Control, Cumberland section, met last night at Ali-Ghan Shrine Country Club to hear Dr. William R. Pabst Jr., discuss "Some Misconceptions of Acceptance Sampling."

The cold air mass extending from the Great Lakes to New England and arriving from Canada lowered temperatures in this section to below freezing.

Ideal autumn weather prevailed today after the overnight readings hit as low as 29 degrees in the area.

The forecast for Allegany and Garrett counties calls for it to be continued fair and cool to night with the general low between 35 and 40 degrees.

However, like this morning, there is to be lows of between 29 and 35 degrees and frost in the valleys of the two western-most counties of the state.

Tomorrow is to be fair and a little warmer in the afternoon, and Sunday is to be fair and warmer.

LaVale's 29-degrees reading recorded at the State Police barracks was the lowest in the state today.

However, at Deal, Pa., 20 miles west of here on Little Savage Mountain, the Western Maryland Railway reported 28 degrees.

Other low readings in the section were New Germany, 30; Oakland, 30; Cumberland, 30; Elkins, 32 and Connellsville, 35.

The weather promises to be ideal for the squirrel hunters as the season on the "bushy tails" begins at daybreak tomorrow.

The warming temperatures will find the weekend reclining in the lap of Indian summer.

Milwaukee Turns Heaven For Victory-Flushed Braves

Buhl Faces Bob Turley Saturday In Game No. 3

By HOWARD SIGMUND
MILWAUKEE — (INS) — This place wasn't Milwaukee today — it was heaven — to a victory-flushed Braves team that was on even terms with the supposedly invincible New York Yankees in the 1957 World Series.

History meant nothing. Those big, bad bombers from the East were human beings after all, and every ever-loving Milwaukee fan knew that the marvelous Braves were home for a three-game crack at the city's first world championship.

Low Burdette, the lanky right-hander who masterfully downed the Yankees, 4 to 2 yesterday with a gritty seven-inning, sparked the almost-hysterical belief that the Braves were ahead — although they were even at a victory apiece.

Strangers in Milwaukee
The Yankees, grown accustomed to having things their own way in these payoff playoffs, were strangers in a town that expected their series scraps — a great expectation which could very well be frustrated by the Yankee habit of winning the big ones everywhere.

This was a day off and a day of preparation for tomorrow's critical third game at Milwaukee's County Stadium, where more than 45,000 faithful fans will show up for the city's first World Series game ever.

Fastballers Bob Buhl (18-7) of the Braves and Bob Turley (13-6) of the Yankees were billed as the opposing pitchers for the first skirmish on the Braves' home battlefield and the odds makers rated it an even-money match.

Apparently fearing the Yankees more than the Braves do, the price-makers kept Casey Stengel's team 7-to-5 favorites to rack up their 18th world title.

Get Timely Hitting
Burdette, the crafty sinker ball specialist who was dealt to the Braves in 1951 by these very same Yankees, showed the world and 65,202 fans at Yankee Stadium that the Bombers are for real and can be beaten.

He was aided by some timely hitting by his power-stroking teammates and an almost unheard-of series happenstance — shoddy Yankee fielding.

Factually, the Braves won the second game with a two-run rally in the fourth inning that broke a 2-2 tie and kayaked Yankee starter, little lefty Bobby Shantz. Successive singles by Joe Adcock, Andy Pafko and Wes Covington, plus a boot by rookie Tony Kukek at third base on an out-field peg decided the issue.

Milwaukee's first run of the game, in the second inning, came on a long triple to center field by Hank Aaron followed by a single by Adcock. Mickey Mantle, New York's gifted center fielder, played a prominent part in the action.

The usually flawless Mantle — who was held hitless by Burdette in three trips — misjudged the Aaron blast and bobbled Adcock's hit, allowing the big first baseman to reach second.

The Milwaukee outfield was the one that was supposed to fold in the intricate shadows at the Bronx ball park. But Milwaukee left fielder Covington, a supposed good hit-no field operative, turned in the key fielding gem of the game.

Covington Saves Day
After a 20-foot, tape-measure single by Jerry Coleman down the third-base line had scored Enos Slaughter from third with the first Yankee run in the second inning, Covington saved the day for Burdette and the Braves.

With runners on first and second and two out, Shantz shot a liner to left field. Running hard to his right Covington made a sensational backhand catch of the would-be two-bagger.

Johnny Logan's bases-empty homer in the top of the third accounted for Milwaukee's second run and Hank Bauer's solo blast in the bottom half closed out the Yankee scoring, although Burdette had to turn back Yankee uprisings in the sixth and ninth innings.

The Braves, who became the first non-New York team to win a Series game since 1918, will be the hosts tomorrow, Sunday and Monday.

If necessary, the action will revert to New York next Wednesday and Thursday for the sixth and seventh games.

Manager's Manger

(News, views, anecdotes and general information about the breeding and racing of thoroughbreds, straight from the feed box of the general manager of the Cumberland Fair Association.)

By HARRY J. BARTON
Hunting is one of the favorite sports of Western Marylanders, including the writer. Many who are enjoying the races this week will soon be out in the woods matching their wits with squirrels and pheasants and rabbits instead of race horses.

Hunting is not a good sport for horse trainers, however.

One famous trainer went on a hunting trip with some friends, and when a deer broke out of the woods and ran straight toward him, he failed to raise his rifle. He pulled out his stop watch instead.

Trainers and owners are a wonderful lot of people.

The Gypsy owner, or one-horse man lives from hand to mouth most of the time. He hits the jackpot once in awhile, gets some fresh hope—and fresh money—and is able to carry on.

There are big owners and little ones, rich ones and poor ones.

The gypsy is the one who really tries to bring a living from racing.

He may claim a horse, or get it at a bargain sale. He lives with it, loves it, nurses it when it has troubles, rejoices with it when it's in top form. He scribbles and saves and schemes — and sometimes goes hungry himself in order to see that his horse is fed.

It may be that the gypsy's love of racing is greater than that of anyone else. He clings to it through worries and hardships that are beyond the imagination of the average man.

Trainers come from everywhere, and every walk of life. They are former jockeys, stable hands, firemen, farmers, scholars, and bookkeepers. Some can't read or write, others have college degrees.

They are to horses what fathers and school teachers are to children. They take their horses as two-year-olds and teach them their lessons and their manners. They study horses, getting to know their good points and bad ones, and try to improve the one in order to eliminate the other.

They train a horse as another man will train an athlete—to see that on the day of a contest he is in the best possible condition. Some horses carry their speed over a greater distance than others. It is the trainer's job to find out what distance his horse likes best and then make sure that, every time he goes to the post, he is fit to travel that distance and have enough stamina left over for the final drive in the stretch.

Only a foolhardy trainer tries to stretch the distance that nature has set for a horse.

Different trainers have different methods of schooling, feeding and working horses. Some, such as wise, old Jim (Continued on Page 12)

Carolina Seen Rigid Test For Passing Navy

By The Associated Press
Does North Carolina Coach Jim Tatum have the answer to Navy's passing game?

"When the ball is in the air," says Tatum, "it's anybody's ball and one pass interception is equal to five downs."

Tatum's philosophy should get a stern test tomorrow when his Tar Heels face the sixth-ranked Navy at Chapel Hill.

The game could be a "big" one for North Carolina, seeking its first winning season since 1949. The Tar Heels, after losing 0-7 to North Carolina State in their opener, drubbed defending Atlantic Coast Conference champion Clemson 26-0 last week. A victory over Navy could provide the impetus for a winning season.

The stumbling block is Navy, with a first team of lettermen, nine of them seniors with plenty of experience. At the quarterback is Tom Forrestal, the Nation's No. 3 passer. Navy has won its first two games, over Boston College and William & Mary, but how much of a real test these games were remain to be seen.

Meanwhile, North Carolina practiced its pass defense yesterday, and Tatum said his squad generally was in good condition.

North Carolina State and Clemson, which meet tomorrow at Clemson, tapered off their drills yesterday. Each team reviewed offense and defense.

Wake Forest and Virginia, two ACC members without a victory, each stressed offense in night workouts. The two met at Winston-Salem in a night game.

It was a light workout for Duke yesterday with the Blue Devils practicing against Maryland offense and defense.

Of the Maryland squad, only Paul Tonelli, who had his appendix removed after last week's loss to N.C. State, will miss the game. The Terps held a light workout yesterday which featured kicking drills.

South Carolina, which has a tough assignment against Texas at Austin tomorrow, worked light, stressing individual tactics and dummy scrimmage.

Knox To Sue George Halas

CHICAGO — Harvey Knox, stepfather of quarterback Ronnie Knox, says he is going to sue George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears.

Halas yesterday suspended Ronnie for "willful violation of rules and regulations of the club." He said the rookie quarterback missed two club practices in 12 days and also did not show up for special quarterback tutoring sessions three days this week.

"When we are officially notified about the suspension, we'll call in our lawyers and sue for breach of contract and misrepresentation," said Harvey. "We will fight Halas in court, letting the chips fall where they may, until there no longer is any money left in the Knox coffers, if necessary."

Michigan State-Cal Game May Be Rose Bowl Preview

NEW YORK — (INS) — It's still three months to New Year's Day, but a near facsimile of college football's Rose Bowl classic will follow the World Series on television Saturday when Michigan State collides with California.

The Spartans, pre-season pick to represent the Big Ten at Pasadena this season, are meeting a California squad which suffered two close setbacks to Southern Methodist and Washington State, but which still is regarded by many as the bowl-bound Pacific Coast entry.

Ranked second in the land only to Oklahoma, Michigan State is a 15-point favorite over Iowa State as the Spartans open their campaign last week Saturday by rolling up 32 first downs and 555 yards enroute to a 54-0 rout of Indiana.

Jockeys Gain Revenge, Even Softball Series

The game will be televised nationally by NBC at the conclusion of the third World Series game at Milwaukee.

Top-ranked Oklahoma is a 35-point favorite over Iowa State as the Sooners open their campaign against Big Eight (formerly Big Seven) competition.

Victory for the unbeaten Sooners will extend their collegiate record streak to 42 straight victories, 114 consecutive scoring games and 60 consecutive conference wins.

The rest of the national leaders also figure to win handily. Michigan, ranked third in International News Service's "Top Ten" this week, is a three-touchdown choice over Georgia and fourth-ranked Minnesota is 14 points over Purdue in the only Big Ten squabble of the day.

Fifth-ranked Baylor is the ten-point choice in a night game at Miami, sixth-ranked Texas A & M is spotted two touchdowns at Missouri and seventh-rated Iowa is 16 points over Washington State.

Navy Favored

Oregon State (8) goes to North-western a one-touchdown favorite, Navy (9) is two touchdowns at North Carolina and Duke (10) is favored by three TD's to knock off an old Atlantic Coast Conference tormentor, Maryland.

Indiana picks up the pieces and tries again, at Notre Dame, while the rest of the Big Ten takes on the country at large. Ohio State is at Washington, Illinois hosts Colgate and Wisconsin entertains West Virginia.

With its other members booked for intercollegiate games, PCC activities will be limited to a meeting between UCLA and Oregon.

One Southwestern Conference game is listed; between Arkansas and Texas Christian. Rice enters Stanford and South Carolina is at Texas.

It will be Florida at Kentucky.

Southern Scores First Win, 20-7

Fullback Keith Butler sparked Southern High to its first football victory in five starts by scoring two touchdowns yesterday as St. Francis High of Morgantown, W. Va., was beaten, 20-7, at Oak Grove.

Butler tallied on runs of 10 and 12 yards in the third quarter after the teams had battled to a scoreless deadlock in the opening two periods. Marlin Coker and the other Highlander TD on a one-yard plunge in the final stanza. Bill Murphy kicked two of three extra point attempts.

George Smith's 15-yard pass to Albert Kedor produced the only St. Francis score with Rod Harris' kick for the point being wide.

Never was victory so sweet. The oft-trampled Jockeys emerged 11-10 winners over the die-hard St. Francis Wednesday at the Colanese field, evening the Cumberland softball series at one victory each.

Many agreed that the St. Francis were "pounds the best" in the five and a half "furlong" tussle, placing St. Francis' downfall on a miscast official behind the plate whose calls on all bases relieved the riders of third out "enforcement." In defense of the umpire, it can be stated that a member of the Jockeys was a relative.

Scoring seven runs in the bottom of the fifth, the "little" men tenaciously clung to their advantage when a closing rally by the losers just failed to knot the count in the first of the sixth.

Although given poor support in the field, Pitcher Biss Bosley, a 105-pound 6-foot apprentice jockey making his first appearance in silks (the actually is a blacksmith), was easily the outstanding player in both lineups. Heftiest hit producer for the winners was third baseman Earl Phelps with three for three.

Busso, Williams Tangle Tonight

WASHINGTON — Johnny Busso, a rising star among lightweights, and Little (Sonny Boy) Williams, a home town boy getting his first crack at main event money, clash tonight in a 10-round bout at Capital Arena.

Busso, 23-year-old New Yorker, is a 2-4 favorite to mar Williams' debut as a fighter on television.

Williams may have the local audience in his corner, for he's a Washingtonian, but Busso will have a distinct advantage in experience and position. Busso is ranked ninth among 133-pounders, while Williams is just graduating from the scintillating class and hasn't crashed the ratings.

The bout will be carried on the usual Friday night radio-TV hookup (NBC, 10 p.m. EDT).

Clocker's Job Starts At Dawn And Runs Far Into The Night

By J. SUTER KEGG
Evening Times Sports Editor

One of the easiest jobs at any race track appears to be that of the timer. During an afternoon of racing he can be seen occupying a spot in the press box equipped only with a pair of binoculars, a stopwatch and a pencil.

It's a task so simple that just about any racing fan could do it. But that happens to be just one phase of a clocker's work. In fact, it's the easiest and most pleasant part of an endless day.

One of the first persons at the Cumberland Fair Grounds every day during the current meet is timer William O. Wilson. He arrives with the crack of dawn and doesn't leave until after all eight races have been run. That means it's 6:30 or 7 p. m. before he gets away from Fairgo.

A native of Frederick, the friendly soft-spoken timer doesn't know the meaning of an eight-hour day. His working day isn't even over after departing from the track because he usually spends several hours every night poring over his books.

Betting Still Up

Wagering is almost certain to surpass last year's total, being $13,418 ahead of the first ten days of 1956 going into this afternoon's card. Two Saturdays, always the big days, were included in the first ten days last year. An estimated crowd of 4,200 bet $194,558 yesterday to run the ten-day handle to $1,855,998.

Tony Russo, a Baltimorean, celebrated "Baltimore Day" by piloting Glen Gold to victory in Thursday's feature race. Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro of Baltimore presented a savings bond to Mrs. John R. Russo of Ardmore, Pa., wife of the trainer of Glen Gold from Castle Rock Farm. Odds-on choice of the bettors, Glen Gold paid $3.60 to win.

Blen Gold was one of five favorites to score yesterday. The others were Yule Miss ($3.40) in the first, Lily's Gal ($4.30) in the third, Hillside Miss ($5.00) in the fourth and Marlene C. ($4) in the sixth.

Chased Again Pays $42.00

Walker T. Elkins' Chased Again, a 20-1 shot ridden by Floyd Green, took the eighth race and paid the best price of the afternoon—$42.40.

Willie Clark retained his lead in the battle for leading rider by scoring aboard Katie King, an $11.40 winner in the fifth. It was Clark's tenth win in as many days, leaving him one ahead of Tommy Lee who rode a second straight double to boost his total to nine. Lee was aboard Yule Miss and Hillside Miss.

Noble Harmony, apprentice Floyd Gibson up, survived a foul claim to register in the second race and paid $7.80 for $2. Floyd Green on Return Receipt, who finished second, claimed a foul against the winner but it was disallowed by the stewards.

Yule Miss (2) and Noble Harmony (4) was the winning daily double combination and the payoff was $18.50, shortest of the meeting.

Manager's

Fitzsimmons, change their methods at times.

"Maybe it's because I'm getting older," Fitzsimmons once said, "but I start my work now at a time when I used to finish them."

"I'm not as keen about getting up at five o'clock in the morning or even four — as I was some years ago. And I have an idea the horses like it this way, too. I don't think they ever thought it was much fun to run in the dark."

Aside from being honest and knowing horse flesh, the most important asset the trainer must have is patience.

Patience, patience and more patience. That's what makes poor horses good, good horses better, and the best horses outstanding.
